University of Modena and Reggio Emilia

Marco Biagi Department of Economics

FACT SHEET 2027 - 2028

UNIMORE
UNIVERSITÀ DEGLI STUDI DI MODENA E REGGIO EMILIA

ABOUT US

The Marco Biagi Department of Economics is a leading academic institution in teaching and research in economics and management. Established in 1968 and located in the historic Foro Boario since 1994, the Department was officially named after Marco Biagi in 2012.

Today, it hosts around 3,000 students and offers a vibrant international academic environment supported by professors, researchers, and administrative staff.

Location

Address: Via Berengario 51, 41121 Modena, Italy

The Department is located in the city centre, within walking distance to the railway and coach stations, with parking facilities nearby.

University code

IMODENA01

Web site

https://www.economia.unimore.it/en

MODENA - A welcoming city

Modena (population 189.000) is a city with a high standard of living:

- Beautiful music and Bel Canto - Luciano Pavarotti: one of the greatest tenors in history, and Mirella Freni a great soprano.
- Fine food & cusine: Parmiggiano-Reggiano (PDO cheese), PGI Balsamic Vinegar, Prosciutto di Modena (PDO ham), Lambrusco Wine, Cotechino and Zampone, etc...
- Annual Festival of Philosophy (second week of September)
- High speed sport cars: Ferrari, Maserati, Pagani
- Architectual treasures: Cathedral and Ghirlandina Tower (UNESCO World Heritage site - 1997)

Modena is well connected to the rail network, so it is easy to reach the major tourist attractions: Mantova, Parma, Rimini, Milan, Rome, Florence, Pisa, Venice, Verona, Tuscany, or the Alps, the Lake Garda, the Amalfi coastline and so forth.

STUDY PROGRAMMES

Bachelor's Degree

- Business Administration and Management
- Economics and Finance
- International Economics and Marketing

Master's Degree

- Finance and Management
- Data Analysis for Economics and Management
- General Management and Consulting
- Economics, Public Policy and Sustainability
- International Management
- Employment Relations

Taught entirely in English

COURSES

Students can choose and attend any course but the approval of their Erasmus coordinator is required.
Courses are mainly taught in Italian but some courses (Bachelor's and Master's) are taught in English.
International Management (Master degree) is entirely taught in English.
A minimum B1 Italian language level is recommended in order to take the courses taught in Italian.
No official Italian language certificate or diploma is required.

Useful links:
https://www.economia.unimore.it/en/education
https://www.economia.unimore.it/en/learning/course-catalogue
https://www.economia.unimore.it/en/education/syllabus → searching tool for courses https://www.economia.unimore.it/en/education/lesson-timetable-exams-graduation

Contacts

International Relation Office

Address: Via Università, 4
E-mail: incoming.erasmus@unimore.it
Web-site

Application procedure
Studentcard, Certificate of Attendance, Transcript of records

Visa
Accommodation
Health Service card
Tax code number

International Welcome Desk

Address: Via San Geminiano, 3
E-mail: internationalwelcomedesk@unimore.it
Web-site

Marco Biagi Department of Economics

Address: Via Berengario, 51
E-mail: incoming.economia@unimore.it
Web-site

Educational activities: lectures, calendar, courses, exam dates, checking and signing the Learning Agreement LA

